I was unsure of whether I wanted to go into teaching or business when I left my secondary school and so decided on a spread of subjects. History and English, in case I decided to teach or Business Studies if I was to go into finance. Also, Psychology because I was interested in it.

If it wasn't for the Grammar School and Sixth Form Centre's range of subjects on offer, I wouldn't have been able to further explore the possible careers open to me.

The Sixth Form Centre also provided an informal study area to practise a strong work ethic as well as to socialise with friends.

The Grammar School and Sixth Form Centre offers a cornucopia of opportunities for the individual student.
